3. Federal Student Loans

New this year:

If your parent or spouse are required to contribute information to your FAFSA, you will be prompted to submit/confirm their personal and contact information. Then your parent/spouse will receive an email from the U.S. Department of Education inviting them to log into studentaid.gov to help complete your FAFSA.

Gathering the Documents Needed for the 2024–25 FAFSA® Form

You might need the following information or documents as you fill out the 2024–25 FAFSA form:

- 2022 Federal Tax return
- Records of child support received

Federal Student Aid's Definitions for Assets

Current Total of Cash, Savings, and Checking Accounts

Add the account balances of your (and if married, your spouse's) cash, savings, and checking accounts as of the day you submit the FAFSA form. Enter the total of all accounts as the total current balance. If the total balance is $10 million or more, enter 9999999. If the total balance is negative or zero, enter 0 as the total current balance.

Don't include student financial aid in your account balances.

Round to the nearest dollar. Don't include commas or decimal points.

Current Net Worth of Investments, Including Real Estate

The net worth of your (and if married, your spouse's) current investments is the amount left over after deducting the debt from the value of each investment. See example 1.

A negative value of one property can't be used to reduce the value of other investment properties. It should instead be calculated as a value of zero when adding the values of all investment properties. See example 2.

Investment value means the current balance or market value of these investments as of the day you submit your FAFSA form. Investment debt means only those debts that are related to the investments.

Round to the nearest dollar. Don't include commas or decimal points.

Investments Include

<ul style="list-style-type: none">• real estate (don't include the home in which you live)• rental property (includes a unit within a family home that has its own entrance, kitchen, and bath rented to someone other than a family member)• vacation homes• trust funds• Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (UGMA) and Uniform Transfers to Minors Act (UTMA) accounts• money market funds• mutual funds	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• certificates of deposit• stocks• stock options• bonds• securities• installment and land sale contracts (including mortgages held)• tax shelters• accounts designated for the student's benefit, (including qualified education benefits, or education savings accounts such as Coverdell savings accounts, 529 college savings plans, and the refund value of 529 prepaid tuition plans).

Note: Qualified education benefits or education savings accounts must be reported as an asset of the parent if the student is considered a dependent on the FAFSA® form. If the student is considered an independent student on the FAFSA form, the education benefit or savings account is reported as an asset of the student. UGMA and UTMA accounts are considered the student's assets and must be reported as an asset of the student on the FAFSA form, regardless of the student's dependency status.

Investments don't include

<ul style="list-style-type: none">• the home in which you (and if married, your spouse) live• cash, savings and checking accounts• ABLE accounts• the value of life insurance and retirement plans (401[k] plans, pension funds, annuities, noneducation IRAs, Keogh plans, etc.)	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• UGMA/UTMA accounts for which the student is the custodian but not the owner• the value of qualified education benefits or education savings accounts that are for the benefit of the parent's other children (not the student).

Examples of Current Net Worth of Investments, Including Real Estate

Example 1:

You own (and if married, your spouse owns) an investment property valued at $100,000; however, $75,000 in debt is owed on the property. The net worth of the investment is $25,000 ($100,000 - $75,000 = $25,000).

If you own (and if married, your spouse owns) multiple investments, total the net worth amounts and report them as a lump sum.

Example 2:

You own (and if married, your spouse owns) two investment properties.

The first investment property is valued at $100,000. The debt that is owed on the property is $110,000. To calculate the net worth, perform the following calculation:

(Value of Property) minus (Debt Owed on Property) = net worth

$100,000 - $110,000 = -$10,000

The net worth of this first investment property is considered $0, not negative value of $10,000.

The second investment property is valued at $200,000. The debt that is owed on the property is $100,000. To calculate the net worth, perform the following calculation:

(Value of Property) minus (Debt Owed on Property) = net worth

$200,000 - $100,000 = $100,000

The net worth of this second investment property is $100,000.

If the net worth of the first investment property is $0 and the net worth of the second investment property is $100,000, then the amount to be reported for both properties is $100,000.

If your (and if married, your spouse's) net worth as of the day you submit your FAFSA form is Enter

Ten million or more	9999999
Zero or less than zero	0

Current Net Worth of Businesses and Investment Farms

Net worth is the value of the businesses or farms minus any debts owed against them.

Include

- businesses (including a small or family-run business); and
- income-producing farms that you own (including the fair market value of land, buildings, livestock, unharvested crops, and machinery actively used in investment farms, agricultural or commercial activities).

Don't include

- the value of crops that are grown solely for consumption by the student and their family;
- personal money in cash, savings, and checking accounts;
- the home in which you live;
- Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (UGMA) and Uniform Transfers to Minors Act (UTMA) accounts;
- the value of life insurance;
- ABLE accounts;
- retirement plans (401(k) plans, pension funds, annuities, noneducation IRAs, Keogh plans, etc.); or
- other investments, such as real estate (other than the home in which you live), stocks, bonds, certificates of deposit, etc.

Note: If the home in which you live is also located on a farm that you own, do not include the net value of that principal residence in the net value of all farm assets. The principal residence may include the home, structures, and land that are adjacent to the home that are not being used, stored, or sold for farming or other commercial activities.
